A new era of eCommerce

We are pleased and excited to announce our eCommerce platform modernization.

This new platform is aligned with our company's vision of being centered around the customers and their needs, while providing unparalleled product knowledge and availability. Furthermore, we listened to your feedback; Concerns about navigation and search functionalities have been addressed and will continue to be improved over time.

This playbook provides each profit centers and its employees with standard operating guidelines for eCommerce. It also provides information on specific online features.

Beta Phase

To ensure a smooth transition into this new platform, an initial testing phase will be deployed with select profit centers and their customers. Customers will be migrated and given access to the new platform to provide feedback. During the testing phase, features will continue to be developed in anticipation of our official national launch and based on customer feedback received.

Our entire electrical products catalogue will be available during this phase. However, product information enrichment will be an ongoing endeavor which will continuously expand our catalogue over time.

Official Launch

By this time, all of our customers will be migrated to the new platform region by region. Some additional features will be implemented based on customer feedback received during the pilot phase and will continue to be developed after the launch.

Band of Brother Concept

In order to serve customers more efficiently, local business centers will be working together to offer a larger assortment of products, more competitive prices, and improved lead times for delivery. This concept is seamless for customers, but should improve their eCommerce shopping experience tremendously.

User Roles

Customer accounts have 2 types of User Roles available: Administrator, Users. User roles will be initially setup by your local profit centers. Existing users will be migrated to the new system automatically.

Administrator - Can place orders and setup or modify other user permissions.

User - Can place orders, but has to be granted a the order history browsing privilege.
