Description

Whether you're double-gloving over cut-resistant hand protection for meat processing applications or rebuilding the engine of a 1957 Chevy, striking the balance between proper protection and tactile sensitivity is critical. That's why you'll find the N-DEX® Plus on the hands of EMT, industrial and food processing professionals with jobs that require the utmost in barrier protection, chemical and puncture resistance and tactile discrimination. The 8 mil disposable nitrile glove provides wearers barrier protection and comfort unequalled by supported nitrile gloves nearly twice its thickness. Available in lightly powdered and powder-free versions, N-DEX Plus patented construction includes Best's low-modulus formulation, maximizing comfort and minimizing hand fatigue.
